Member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Inc.

...OREGON STATE UNIVERSITY
Joining a fraternity or sorority can be one of the best ways to find your people at OSU, develop your leadership skills, and experience life-changing personal growth. Our community shares several core principles: Friendship, Scholarship, Leadership, Inclusivity, Philanthropy, and Service. These values are embedded into the fraternity and sorority membership experience through the events, opportunities, and friendships our members create.

Oregon State has 47 chapters that are members of one of five communities, the Collective Greek Council (CGC), Interfraternity Council (IFC), the National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC), the Panhellenic Council (PHC), or the Multicultural Greek Council (MGC). We believe there is a place for everyone in our diverse community of over 2,700 students. Fraternities and sororities have a rich history at OSU and have been on campus for over 142 years. The first national organization, Alpha Tau Omega, was established on campus in 1882.

Membership in a fraternity or sorority not only allows you to get more connected at OSU, but also within the local Corvallis community. Studies show that students who are engaged with student organizations, like fraternities and sororities, are more successful academically and are more likely to graduate.

College is a time to build memories and gain friends that will last a lifetime. We know that college is full of choices, and we are glad you’ve made the choice to get to know our chapters. We urge you to explore what our organizations offer and make the best decision for you about which group to join.

Please take time to browse through this publication and acquaint yourself with all that fraternity and sorority life has to offer. If you’re still not sure if ‘going Greek’ is right for you, we encourage you to learn more about these organizations by checking out the fall recruitment/membership intake processes.

Once again, welcome to Oregon State University. We offer you our best wishes for every success during your time here. And get used to saying it — “Go Beavs!”

For over a century, both OSU and fraternities & sororities have benefited from the mutual relationship shared between the community and the institution. Fraternities and sororities provide a valuable component of the undergraduate experience and complement the curricular and co-curricular aims of the University. Fraternities and sororities recognized by OSU are expected to maintain this history of positive contribution by conducting themselves in accordance with the shared values and expectations of their affiliate inter/national organizations and the University. Fraternities and sororities listed in this booklet are the only social fraternities and sororities recognized by and in good standing with Oregon State University.

A Relationship Statement is executed annually between OSU and its fraternities and sororities. This document formalizes the shared values and expectations that are instrumental in ensuring a mutually beneficial relationship between all parties.

This Relationship Statement serves as the basis for ensuring the positive presence and continued contributions of fraternities and sororities at Oregon State University, and that each is working collaboratively to enable each other to meet and exceed their individual missions and goals. To view the full text of this agreement, visit gogreek.oregonstate.edu/relationship-statement.

The specific areas and criteria addressed in the Relationship Statement are listed below the photo.

• Leadership Development
• Academic Achievement
• Risk Reduction and Management
• Diversity and Inclusion
• Membership Development
• Campus Engagement and Community Service
• Advising and Alumni Relations
• Community Standards
FRATERNITIES & SORORITIES
AT OSU SHARE SIX CORE COMMUNITY VALUES

Scholarship
Fraternities and sororities at Oregon State University strive for academic excellence. Each chapter has specific grade requirements for students to maintain active membership and provides their members with resources to promote academic success. Chapters also offer many options to help new members transition academically from high school to college, including educational programs and workshops, study hours, tutoring programs, and more. As a result, the All-Greek GPA is consistently at or above the All-Undergraduate average.

Philanthropy
Fraternities and sororities sponsor a variety of philanthropic fundraisers that raise over $275,000 annually to support local and national nonprofit organizations. These fundraisers include athletic tournaments, haunted houses, lip sync competitions, and more.

Inclusivity
United by a common bond, the OSU Greek community is a diverse community that strives for inclusivity of all people regardless of age, ethnicity, race, culture, gender identity or expression, religion, disability, veteran status or sexual orientation. We hope to promote a welcoming environment for all students on campus where all members and guests feel supported and accepted.

Community Service
In conjunction with philanthropy, each fraternity and sorority participates in numerous community service events each year to engage with the Corvallis and surrounding communities. Last year, OSU’s Fraternity and Sorority Community logged approximately 45,000 hours of community service. Commitment to civic engagement encourages growth as servant leaders and allows members to help others in the world around us.

Friendship
With a large student body at OSU, it is easy for new students to be overwhelmed with life on campus. Fraternity and sorority membership eases the transition and enriches the college experience by encouraging the development of sincere relationships within a tight-knit community of over 2,400 students. The lifelong bonds of brotherhood and sisterhood made in fraternities and sororities are unmatched by any other student organization.

Leadership
Developing leadership skills in all members is a fundamental goal of every organization. Fraternities and sororities offer a variety of leadership positions within their chapters and opportunities also exist in the Fraternity/Sorority Community at large. Members are also leaders on campus, currently holding leadership positions in over 260 student organizations at OSU.

Annual Community Programs

Governing Council Leadership:
Chapter members have the opportunity to hold leadership positions on one of the governing council executive boards within Fraternity & Sorority Life. These boards, comprised of students who are community members, are elected by their peers to govern and program on behalf of their community. These councils annually participate in national leadership conferences and work to improve the fraternity/sorority experience at OSU.

Leadership Development Programs:
Fraternity & Sorority Life annually hosts a variety of leadership development experiences, including two leadership retreats for members of the community. The Emerging Leadership Retreat is hosted each November for up-and-coming first and second year members, who engage in exploration of their own leadership goals. The President's Leadership Retreat is hosted in January and is an overnight weekend of community building and strategic planning for all chapter presidents and governing council officers.

Order of Omega:
Order of Omega is a national Greek Honor Society for the top 3% of fraternity men & sorority women based on the tenets of scholarship, leadership, service, and character. Order of Omega’s purpose is to recognize students who have attained a high standard of leadership within the community, to bring together those members who will help shape the community and the University, and to join faculty, alumni, and students with the intent of helping and understanding one another.

& Involvement Opportunities

Stepping & Strolling:
Stepping and Strolling is an expressive dance form that was created by African American fraternities in the 1970s. It has been adopted by most culturally-based fraternal organizations through the years. NPHC and MGSC members move together in a line expressing pride for their organization. In this line, members may show this pride through the use of their organization’s call, sign or historical information, ritual/custom dances, etc. NPHC and MGSC organizations perform at annual yardshows and competitions.

Greek Week:
Fraternities and sororities have been a part of the Oregon State University (OSU) community for over 100 years and Greek Week serves as a celebration of everything fraternity/sorority at OSU! Fraternity & Sorority members work together to plan a week of educational programs, friendly competitions and contribute to philanthropic causes. In 2024, the community came together to raise around $5,000 for Special Olympics of Oregon by participating in the Polar Plunge!

All-University Sing:
Previously known as “IFC Sing”, the event originated in 1936 as a homecoming event for fraternity members at the Oregon Agricultural College. Today it is called All-University Sing, which is an annual event that chapters from the Collective Greek Council, Interfraternity Council, and Panhellenic Council traditionally participate in.
As a student, Gayle Fitzpatrick ’78 learned far more than what was part of the classroom curriculum. Her day-to-day collegiate experience involved managing large groups and leading meetings, team-building, solving conflict, balancing a budget, fundraising, networking on campus and interacting with the community. These skills, valuable assets throughout her career in the technology industry, were finely honed as a leader in OSU’s Greek Community.

President of OSU’s Alpha Rho chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi as an undergraduate, Fitzpatrick had a great experience — so positive that she has remained a leader in her sorority. In fact, she served two, two-year terms as AOII’s International President and is currently serving her second term on AOII’s Properties Board.

A member of OSU’s Fraternity and Sorority Alumni & Friends group, Fitzpatrick recently made a gift establishing an endowed fund to provide leadership training for students in the Greek community — especially emerging leaders in their early years of membership. The OSU Fraternity/Sorority Community is able to annually host an institute for emerging leaders because of this generous gift. Fitzpatrick was recently honored for these efforts with her induction into the Oregon State Greek Hall of Fame which recognizes outstanding alumni for their achievement and contributions to the community.

Fitzpatrick has been a leader in the technology industry for over four decades. Following many years with Oracle Corporation, she recently retired from the position of group vice president of global technical support at New Relic, a software observability company. In retirement, Fitzpatrick remains actively engaged at OSU by serving on several boards across campus. Now living in Lake Oswego, Fitzpatrick remains closely connected to her Alpha Rho sisters, and to many other AOII members she met along the way.

1. What will I get from a fraternity or sorority that I would not get out of any other college organization?

Coming to college is one of the major life changes that you will go through. Joining a fraternity or sorority will help make the transition easier. Developing lifelong friendships with other chapter members helps make the campus seem smaller. For many members, these chapters become a home away from home. In addition to the brotherhood/sisterhood, every chapter is dedicated to enhancing leadership, scholarship, and philanthropy/community service.

2. How do I find the right organization for me?

The best way to find your fit is to ask current members of the organization. Recruitment events are a great way to meet people and ask questions. At the end of the day, it matters most that you find a group that you connect with and that shares similar values with you.

3. If I go through membership intake or recruitment, am I guaranteed an invitation to join a fraternity or sorority?

Just as you are looking for a perfect fit, these organizations are also looking for great individuals. Membership criteria can change from organization to organization, but all groups will have a minimum GPA requirement; some will be focusing on previous or other campus involvement, others more on community service, leadership experience, etc. The most important thing is to be your genuine self throughout the recruitment/membership intake process and the right organization for you will embrace you for who you are.

4. If I am an international student, can I join a fraternity or sorority?

Yes, anyone who is enrolled at OSU is allowed to pursue membership through recruitment or membership intake. We welcome and encourage international students to take part in Fraternity and Sorority Life.

5. What opportunities for continued involvement are there after I graduate?

Fraternity and sorority life is a lifelong commitment with limitless opportunities. Following graduation, many organizations encourage their graduating members to join their local alumni association, as well as regional, district, or national positions and volunteer to support undergraduate members.

6. How much does it cost to join a fraternity or sorority?

During the recruitment or membership intake process, a potential member should ask members about the financial obligations and payment options. The average cost for the first term of joining an organization is usually higher due to one-time expenses and fees. For housed chapters, dues and live-in fees are usually less than the cost to live on-campus in a residence hall. On each council’s page you can see a breakdown of financial costs.

7. Do I have to go to all recruitment and membership intake events? What if I can’t make it to an event?

The best way to find out if an organization is for you, is to attend as many of their events as possible. This will help you see if an organization is a good fit for you. However, it is up to you to attend or choose not attend recruitment events. You should never skip class to attend recruitment events. Your education always comes first, but always make an effort to let the chapter know ahead of time. Keep in mind, some organizations require you to meet certain criteria, for example attending an informational program, community service event, etc. before you will be eligible for membership.

KEY

Affiliated Housing Program (AHP): Several housed fraternities and sororities participate in the Affiliated Housing Program which makes them eligible as an exemption from the first-year live-on requirement. First-year students who are interested in learning more about joining and living in one of these homes, check out the program’s website: studentlife.oregonstate.edu/cfl/affiliated-housing-program.

Alcohol Prohibited – alcohol is not permitted on chapter property

Alcohol Permitted – alcohol is permitted on chapter property for members who are 21 and social events with alcohol can be hosted on chapter property see the IFC Social Policy for a full description of policies and guidelines for social events.

BS – Bedroom Style- residents sleep in individual or shared bedrooms

Cook/Chef – An individual or meal service hired by the organization to provide meals for live-in and, depending on the chapter’s meal plan, live-out members. They work with the chapter to provide accommodations for dietary needs and sometimes assist with catering events.

House Director/ Resident Advisor - Each chapter has an individual hired by the organization to assist collegiate chapter members with accountability and the upkeep of the chapter facility. This person cannot be an undergraduate student and they must live-in the facility. All housed chapters employ a House Director/ Resident Advisor

Laundry Free for Members – Chapters with an “X” provide members with access to laundry facilities that do not require individual payment for each load. Some chapters may include this cost in the live-in member dues.

Parking Lot – Chapters with an “X” have a parking lot or spaces designated for their members. However, this does not mean that every member is guaranteed a spot.

SP – Sleeping Porch - residents sleep in a shared sleeping space typically with bunk beds while their desk/closets are in a shared "day room.”
